

DC Police Officer Training

In partnership with the University of the District of Columbia (UDC) Community College, MPD is pleased to announce the DC Police Officer Training Cohort, to provide an opportunity for qualified men and women to obtain their associate degree and become a police officer with the Washington DC Metropolitan Police Department (MPD).

Gain practical experience with MPD, while studying criminal justice and become a DC police officer.

Classes are held nights and weekends, taught by professors of the UDC Community College and members of the DC Metropolitan Police Department.

Upon completing 60 college credits with UDC Community College, participants will join the DC Police Academy and will earn a salary of $58,163. Once graduated, applicants will become police officers and will also earn their associate degree.
